

Birds Full of Sky

by Rabbi David Zaslow

Have you ever seen the birds full of sky
or raindrops full of little clouds?
Have you ever seen a sky in the sun
or made a star on a twinkling wish?
Have you ever picked a tree off an apple
or seen flowers buzzing around bees?
Have you ever put glass in a milk
or eaten a plate off a hamburger?
Have you ever fed parakeets to your seeds
or given cats to your milk?
Have you ever put a horse on a saddle
or seen the flies eat frogs?
Have you ever put a bun in a hot dog
or heard radios coming out of music?
Have you ever read books in words
or seen rubber cars on tires?
Have you ever taken the banana off a peel
or taken cherries out of pits?
Have you ever spread bread on peanut butter
or plugged a wall into a lamp?
Have you ever had heads in your thoughts
or had little sleeps in your dreams?
Have you ever kept pockets in your money
or read friends to your poems like this?
