I Get Up in the Face

by Rabbi David Zaslow

I get up in the face and wash my morning. I make my clothes and put on my bed. I say hello to my breakfast and eat my parents. Share and I put on my dog and take my coat for a walk. I walk to book while carrying my schools. I say hello to my desk and sit on my teacher. I spell my math and add my words. I listen with my pencil and write with my ears. I play in the lunch and eat my playground. gun I play with my over when school is friends. I walk back supper just in time for home. I do my TV and watch my homework. I crawl into my light and turn off the bed. I say goodnight to my dreams and have wonderful parents all night.
